MOTION

WE MOVE that the City of Cincinnati Administration provide a report on existing notice resources and practices for zoning changes, building issues, developments, notwithstanding ordinances, liquor licenses, and any other matter requiring notice to community councils, property owners and residents.

WE FURTHER MOVE to request information on options for providing notice to residents in addition to the neighborhood community councils and property owners.

CHINA

There is a growing concern in the United States that China is becoming a major power in the world. This concern is based on the rapid economic growth of China and its increasing military capabilities. The United States is worried that China's rise will challenge its global leadership and its interests in the Asia-Pacific region. The United States is taking steps to strengthen its alliances and to maintain its military presence in the region to counter the growing power of China.
